RETREAT LEADER

Rabbi James Rosenberg has been writing poetry for more than twenty years. Some of his poems and translations of modern Hebrew poetry have appeared in national periodicals. In the fall of 2007, Rabbi Rosenberg completed a ten-year term as Poetry Editor of the CCAR Journal of Reform Judaism. In addition to his poetry, Rabbi Rosenberg has written numerous book reviews and opinion pieces which have appeared in a variety of national Jewish magazines. He has written well over one hundred monthly columns for the Barrington Times; his op-ed pieces have appeared in the Providence Journal, and he writes a bi-weekly column for the Jewish Voice and Herald.
